Commissioner McWhirter.

Col. McWhirter was in Pulaski Tuesday, having come to spur Giles county upon her exhibit at New Orleans. Tennessee will have a splendid exhibit and Giles, being one of the foremost counties, ought to show up in front. The articles exhibited at the fair will be precious, if possible, and sent on. Fruit must be sent at once and they will be kept in a refrigerator there. Other articles—sheaves of wheat, rye, oats, etc., specimens of woods, stones, etc., produce of mills, factories, woman's handwork, and, in short, all manner of products and results of skillful handiwork, are to be sent into Pulaski to the commission here (stand at Capt. Crow) and they will be shipped without expense. Send in something. Col. McWhirter told the writer that he could trace about sixteen hundred families brought into Tennessee through the influence of the exhibit at Louisville last year. There is no measuring the results of the New Orleans exhibit. It will be the largest ever held in the United States and the bulk of the benefits come to the south. It is to be greatly lamented that our county could not make the $250 appropriation. About twenty counties did it. They get the power, and from any special statute, but from the general power of the county court to care for the public welfare. Congress gave the Exposition a million on this public welfare power. It is conceded everywhere.

Let the farmers and mechanics, mill men, etc., send in specimens—anything to show what we raise, and what we make—and if we cannot get the county court or individuals to furnish the money to prepare them nicely to exhibit, we can send them along in the rough. Do not hang back because you think some one else can beat you. Your goods does not amount to much. It is not a contest between exhibitors, but an aggregation of products, and if all will contribute we can make a splendid showing. Store will be provided here and you will be put to no trouble or expense. Bring them in, however little.

Martin McNairy.

Mr. Ed. N. Martin and Miss Willie McNairy were married Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. D. S. Martin, near the street. Rev. W. Weekly officiating. The circumstances attending the marriage were very interesting and somewhat romantic. Wednesday of next week, October 8th, has been set as the day for the occurrence of the happy event and it was quite a surprise to their many friends when it was made known that they had married a week earlier. Mr. Martin had been quite ill for a week or more and his physician feared that he had typhoid fever, and the indications were that the marriage could not occur at the appointed time. Hence an earlier day was set and at the time stated above Mr. Martin went in a carriage, accompanied by Messrs. Atch and Will Lane, to the house of the bride, where in the presence of a few friends he was married to the bride. The couple were very happy and the ceremony was performed.

It is hoped that the tender ministrations of the bride will greatly assist the physician in restoring the groom to vigorous health and that the warm affection which they feel for each other will be a great help to the physician in restoring the groom to vigorous health and that the warm affection which they feel for each other will be a great help to the physician in restoring the groom to vigorous health.

Death of Mrs. Matthews.

Mrs. Temperance Matthews, aged mother of Messrs. John and James Matthews, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Summerhill, in Pulaski last Monday at 10 o'clock A. M. Widowers for Sale.

An old lady who has been married several times herself and now is a little lame proposes to sell off her four old widowers who are good looking and full of courtship and pluck but have no luck. They live on a little creek called Clear, but they muddy the waters far and near. They are always in the way of the beaux, court all the belles, but no good comes of all their swells. Three of their names are of a fruit that a fat possum likes and gets ripe after frost strikes. The other is equally as happy a fruit as the other three, but is not so much liked by the beaux and not a hair between him and heaven. So this fruit is now put on the market, as frost is expected soon. They can be seen at any big meeting at Simpson's Chapel, with whiskers blacked and perfumed and to court their voices tuned. They will be sold privately for thirty days, after which time if not sold will be closed out at public auction to make room for the young men. For catalogues, address Lane Lady, Simpson Chapel, Tenn.

The Fair.

The fair opened Tuesday under the most favorable auspices. There was not a large attendance on the first day, though quite as many as were expected. The entries of stock were not so numerous as usual and that it is assured, as we predicted, that it will be our best fair. Some of the fastest horses in the state are on the ground, Joe Brown and his team will be the management, in fact, have found it difficult to furnish accommodations for all the horses. The stables are all full and a number of the stalls usually reserved for sheep and cattle are now filled with horses. The premium races have all been filled, the premium races will be filled in time. The show of hogs, sheep, cattle, etc., is very creditable, and every one is pleased with the prospect of unprecedented success in every particular for the last three days. There was a very large crowd there yesterday, more than ever seen on the second day. Many visitors are on the ground. We defer a partial premium list and will give it all in full. Friday and Saturday will be the biggest days, perhaps, ever seen here.

Pleasant Valley.

Last Saturday and Sunday were the days for holding our last quarterly meeting for the year. Although the church was in an unfinished condition, still there was a large congregation on Sunday. The return of our present pastor, Mr. James Seales, is a great blessing to the church. He is a man of great ability and a great blessing to the church. Cedar Grove.

—Cotton picking is in full operation during this fine weather. The yield will be pretty good considering the dry weather. There is some complaint of rust on cotton. Wheat is very green in the Fayetteville and Farmers are waiting for rain to get their ground in order. There has been some snow yet. We hear of some murrain among cattle. Cholera still prevails among poultry.

—Miss W. Matthews had a tumor cut from her milk last Friday as large as a hat crown. It was on her flank. The operation was performed by Dr. W. E. Wilson.

—Mrs. Nannie Orr of Maury is visiting her sister, Mrs. Thos. S. Pittard.

—It is with sadness that we pen the death of Miss Kate Everly, who died of that dread disease, consumption, about two months ago. She was a very good woman and a great blessing to the church. She was a very good woman and a great blessing to the church. She was a very good woman and a great blessing to the church.

—The American refused to publish because of its bitterness. Then he took it to the World and said the American had refused to publish it, without giving the reason, whereupon the "great and good" proceeded to read him a lesson on Hook and Butler there will be an everlasting separation. Very respectfully, JAS. T. WHEELER.

Had a good sermon delivered by Rev. Weakley of Pulaski. Several persons from this community attended church at Trinity Sunday.

—Mr. Frank Gilchrist of this neighborhood was married last Sunday at 4 o'clock P. M. to Miss Mollie Newton of Lawrence county. Also Mr. Mat Rasky to Mrs. Melissa Frazier. The couples have our best wishes for their future prosperity.

—Crops in this part are generally good but need rain.

—J. D. Vaughn commenced his singing school on Shoal creek last Monday morning. Mr. Vaughn is well versed in music and is worthy of the patronage of the people wherever he may cast his lot.

Diana.

—No rain since my last, streams are falling, plowing can't be done, grass is giving way, dust everywhere.

—Sam Harwell sports a mustache and with his most bewitching smile lands the yard stick. Faltor Griffin lands the yard stick. Pleasant. Also it is rumored that he is matrimonially inclined. John P. Clark is already bespoken. Bob Burgess is selling a patent washer. Pitts and Will Brown are still having child. Miss Ed. Orr is attending the meeting at Bear creek.
